

Forestry

Members from our chapter competed in a forestry contest against many other chapters. They measured the trees to find different uses and qualities about them.